Whanau newsletter

Hello everyone

I hope your first day in lockdown is going well. South School teachers have put a lot of time into preparing learning from home for students. For most of you this will be online but we understand this is not possible for everyone. Your classroom teacher understands this and will be supporting alternative approaches.

For the remainder of this week staff are busy making personal contact with whanau by phone and email. Your first point of contact over the coming weeks will always be your classroom teacher.

Students requiring additional support will still receive this and our wonderful teacher aides will be in contact.

Presently, learning websites are available for whanau and students but the structured learning activities will begin from the end of the school holidays after Easter. Watch out for postings of additional learning sites on the School website.

There are expectations that all students are involved in learning and your child's teacher will be monitoring this.

Please remember that Dannevirke South School is closed, including all playgrounds.

We have had to move quickly to develop online learning and no doubt there will be challenges but there will be nothing we cannot sort for you. If you need to contact me I will always be available on 0275064862 or principal@dannevirkesouth.school.nz.

Coming up... Fantastic ideas from students including a newsletter and amazing competition with outstanding prizes.

Go well everyone.
